FUNNY PAGES AND INTERESTING FACTS

JOKE OF THE MONTH

An elderly gent was invited to his old friend's home for dinner one evening. He was impressed by the way his buddy preceded every request to his wife with endearing terms - "Honey," "My Love," "Darling," "Sweetheart," "Pumpkin," etc. The couple had been married almost 70 years and, clearly, they were still very much in love. While the wife was in the kitchen, the man leaned over and said to his host, "I think it's wonderful that, after all these years, you still call your wife those loving pet names." The old man hung his head. "I have to tell you the truth," he said. "I forgot her name about 10 years ago."

WOULD YOU BELIEVE!!!

A man who went through the self-checkout station at a Home Depot store in Seattle, Wash., accidentally punched the button on the computer for Spanish. The man then apparently became "frustrated that the machine was speaking Spanish" to him, the resulting police report said. The first item he was trying to buy: a pry bar. He used it to smash the computer, dropped the pry bar in his shopping cart, and walked out. The store said the man, who was not found by police, caused $10,000 in damage.

ON THIS DATE

On March 1, 1845 - U.S. President Tyler signed the congressional resolution to annex the Republic of Texas.

WEIRD BUT TRUE

Luke Radick, 21, was charged with attempted robbery of the National Bank of Palmerton in Sciota, Pa., in January. Bank employees refused to buzz Radick in for the simple reason that he stood at the door, covering his face and holding a shotgun.

MORONS

A 19-year-old male, driving the A67 highway near the Dutch town of Blerick, sought to impress his two passengers by putting his car on cruise control at 20 mph, getting out of the car, and running alongside it. He planned to jump back in and drive on, but the moment his feet hit the ground, he fell over and slammed headfirst into the asphalt. He was admitted to the hospital with severe brain damage, and died the next day.
