Buzzard Tournament Update :

We have a total of 12 teams going to the tournament this year. Almost up to where it was a few years back!! There are a total of 44 members & guests going to the dinner/dance from our Chapter.

I spoke with the tournament director John Stewart on Saturday. He has received our applications and is working on them. He called to ask me to check on a few things that I had missed, since I didn't check to see if the 1st & 2nd choices were marked clearly. Otherwise, all was okay. If anything further comes up, you will be told at the next meet in July.

Thanks, Jackie

FUNNY PAGES AND INTERESTING FACTS

JOKE OF THE MONTH

An old farmer had owned a large farm for several years. He had a large pond in the back forty, had it fixed up nice; picnic tables, horseshoe courts, basketball court, etc. The pond was fixed for swimming when it was built. One evening the old farmer decided to go down to the pond, as he hadn't been there for a while, and look it over. As he neared the pond, he heard voices shouting and laughing with glee. As he came closer he saw it was a bunch of young women skinny-dipping in his pond. He made the women aware of his presence and they all went to the deep end of the pond. One of the women shouted to him, "We're not coming out until you leave!" The old man replied, "I didn't come down here to watch you ladies swim or make you get out of the pond, I only came to feed my alligators." Old age and treachery will triumph over youth and skill every time!

FAMOUS QUOTES:

Janis Joplin - "You can destroy your now by worrying about tomorrow."

ON THIS DATE

On August 1, 1876 - Colorado became the 38th state to join the United States.

WEIRD BUT TRUE

In the space of about 30 minutes on a June morning, according to a Dayton Daily News report, Brian Horst, 35, shoplifted several packages of meat and a jug of Mad Dog 20/20 wine from a store, inexplicably rolled a stainless-steel tank of carbon dioxide on wheels away from a restaurant, and disabled an ATM by pounding it with a rock (after several witnesses spotted him in conversation with the screen, apparently trying to reason with the machine or possibly with an imaginary employee inside it).

WOULD YOU BELIEVE!!!

Agustin De Jesus, 47, keeps a cot in the back of his restaurant in Lutz, Fla., so he can stay the night if he's too sleepy for his half-hour drive home after his 17-hour days. He was sleeping on the cot at 4:00 a.m. when he heard a noise. He got up to find a man breaking into his cash drawer. That's when he noticed the back door had been forced open, and a truck was sitting just outside it, idling. De Jesus dashed out the door, jumped into the burglar's waiting truck, and drove off. The police got two calls: the first was from Leonard Levy, 55, who wanted to report his pickup truck had been stolen. The second was from De Jesus, reporting the burglary. De Jesus waited for officers to arrive, and then returned to identify the burglar. Levy, who has at least 20 arrests on his record, whined, "Well, that's the guy who stole my truck!" Police arrested Levy, whom they suspect is involved in several area burglaries, but levied no charges against De Jesus.

MORONS

The Soviet Union is home to a growing number of psychics and mentalists. One of them, E. Frenkel, became convinced that he could use his powers to stop vehicles in their tracks. He believed that "in extraordinary conditions of a direct threat to my organism, all my reserves will be called into action." Frenkel started small -- a bicycle here, an automobile there -- before graduating to streetcars. Finally, he devised an ultimate test of his psychic power: he would halt a freight train in its tracks. The engineer of the train that ran Frenkel over saw him toss his briefcase aside, and step onto the tracks with arms raised, head lowered, and body tensed. The engineer applied the emergency brakes, but it was too late. The mentalist psyched himself out.
